The recent troubles at Spring Valley, Ill., have awakened the colored people to what they deem an urgent necessity for an orthey deem an urgent necessity for an organization for the protection of colored people in Illinois. The chief object, as brought out at a citizens' committee meeting in Chicago, is to quietly organize the state, raise an emergency fund and by that means secure co-operation of persons who are not in symrathy with the methods of the professional agitator. It is contended that the colored man's best interests cannot be served by agitation. terests cannot be served by agitation.

Drugged and Burned to Death. Just before daylight yesterday morning a double log house near Arlington, Tenn., oc-cupied by Mrs. Callie Harrel, her two grown daughters and a son, was burned to the ground, and Mrs. Harrel and the girls the ground, and Mrs. Harrel and the girls perished in the flames. The son, who occupied a room in the rear of the building, barely escaped with his life. It is thought the women were drugged before the fire was set, as log houses burn very slowly, and they should have wakened up in time to escape. Their bodies were burned to a crisp.

Just an Imitation Bull Fight. Governor McIntyre of Colorado has written to Cripple Creek for official information regarding the advertised bull fight. Sec retary Thompson of the Humane Society received a letter from the agent of the scciety at Colorado Springs, stating that the managers of the fight have announced that no cruelty to the bulls would be in-dulged in. The swords, they claim, would be pointed with wax, and not steel. Secre-tary Thompson said that under no circum-stances would the society allow the fight to be held, and would stop it.

The funeral of Thomas Cotter, who was killed near Four-Mile Run, took place to-day from Trinity Catholic Church, at 3 o'clock. Father Roccofort officiated at the services. The pallbearers were selected from the classmates of the deceased, by Fathers Ritchley and Mackin of Georgetown College, where the unfortunate boy had made quite a record for general excellence. Within the church at the services were Father Richards, the president of the ollege, and most of the college faculty, in addition to many of the District students of the university. The pallbearers were John Waggaman, Wm. Helmick, O'Reilly Kuhn, John Sulliwm. Helmick, O'Reilly Kunn, John Sullivan, Thos. Gartland and Hugh Taggart, fr. At the grave, in Holy Rood, the casket was opened and the face of the dead boy viewed. The cars had left no marks upon the features. The back part of the head was crushed, but this, of course, was not exposed. The lower portion of the body received the bulk of the disfigurements.

Many Canal Claims Filed. Mr. Chas. Little, who was appointed by Gov. Brown special auditor of certain claims against the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, has opened his office in Williamsport. Thousands of dollars' worth of claims have already been filed.

The Dead Sexton of Christ Church. The remains of Mr. Samuel Chase, for twenty-six years sexton of Christ Church, and an Odd Fellow of high standing, will lie in Mt. Zion Church on Sunday, open to the view of the public, from 1 until 3 o'clock. At the latter hour the casket will be closed and the funeral take place. Mr. Chase's death has excited much regret here. His prominence among the colored people and the respect he commanded from both races here, through his sterling qualities, made him a figure to be mourned sincerely.

within the scope of the regulations of authority, and the court ruled that it was. In regard to the contention that the legislative body transcended its authority by giving the courts power to make a heavy sentence of penalty for violation of the ordinance if the courts saw proper to do so, Judge Cole admitted the existence of high authorities who say that assemblies cannot make such sliding scales of penalties, but he declared the answer to the contention to be identical to the similar question that was presented in the recent case of W. Kesley Schoepf of the Eckington and Soldiers' Home Railway Company. Judge Cole went on to say that in every instance where the judicial decision has been that the penalty for the commission of al. offense must be regulated by the municipal council, and not by the courts, is where the charter establishing the municipal corporation has expressly provided that such shall be done.

Power of the Police Court. Excitement Over a Lamp Explosion. There was a fire at 3273 Prospect avenue last night, caused through a lamp explosion. Some considerable excitement was generated through it, but not much damly, but it was not deemed necessary to turn on the water. The men fought the flames with buckets of water and chemical ma-chines until their extinguishment took place.

Two Sides to the Case. Lucy Gibson was brought to the station yesterday on a charge of incorrigibility. Her mother, Helen Wood, alleged that the girl ran away frequently, and was an all-around bad daughter. The girl claims, nowever, that she has been sinned againstpeaten unmercifully and driven from home. The last time she was driven away she re-fused to return. Hence the charge. In the Police Court today Judge Mills, after hearing the case, saw no reason why the girl should be held, and she was discharged.

Gen. Weaver's Forecast. WACO, Tex., August 17.-Gen. Weaver, who spoke before the populists, in an interview with the Associated Press representative yesterday, said the cause of free silver was rapidly gaining ground, and that both parties were being materially weakened. He says, in his opinion, William C. Whitney will be the democratic nomines for President, though Cleveland nomines for President, though Cleveland may develop some strength, while the republicans are for Harrison, Morton, Allison and McKinley in the order named. He thought Harrison would receive the nomination and there was no room for two republicans, and the social democratic party was doomed. He believed Senator Sherman's speech at the Zanesville convention would be the outline of the platform of the republican national platform. Ex-Gov. Waite will speak today.

issued. Thomas claims that he shipped on the boat at Boston July 23, and he came here with the vessel, laden with ice. He shipped, so he alleges, as steward and cook, and when at sea he was taken sick. Although sick, he continued to work, and when he reached here and wanted to leave the boat, he charges, the captain refused to pay him $30 due him.

Lawyer Kuhn instituted proceedings against the boat, and the marshal's officers served the writ. Capt. Otis will probably make his return Monday. Dr. Neale, who examired the young man Thomas, said in the shop on business, and when they came out they noticed the suspicious actions of the colored man, who was just entering the place. They returned, and upon learning the story placed Washington under arrest. He resisted arrest, assaulted the officers and breke the glass in the door. Then he got out and made an effort to get away, but was overtaken by Policeman Hinkel and arrested.

While in the pawn shop the colored man said he paid $10 for the ring and gave it to his sweetheart, but they had had a misunderstanding and she had returned the ring. By the time he reached the police station he had forgot this story, and he told the officers that he went in to pawn the ring for a man whom he met on the street.

In the Police Court this morning a charge of grand larceny was preferred against the prisoner, and he was held in $500 security for the action of the grand jury.
